Davis), who was to have assisted Mrs. 1:16. Governor Lee in receiving the Presidential party, was the cause of the trouble, and that the President and his wife, putting politics and society together, concluded it was a political and social recognition which the Administration could not permit. At the White House, however, all such ideas are scouted as preposterous, and the im-pression was given out that it was simply a desire to look after personal mat-ters that kept Mrs. Cleveland at home. Then, too, the ride to Richmond was a faiguing one, and there would be considerable bustle and confusion attendant upon the return trip, and Washington would not be reached until late to-night. These and other considerations were cheerfully dis-cussed by the President and his wife last evening, and resulted in a determination to abandon the Richmond trip, so far as the mistress of the White House was concerned. There could certainly be no impropriety in Mrs. Cleveland meeting Miss Davis, and it is regretted by not a few of er friends that she should have suggested y her absence an imputation to the con-

The Republicans could ask nothing better than to have George elected, for that would result in erystallizing the party he represents through-out the United States, and make him the candidate of the Labor party for the Presidency in 1888. When that time comes, the Republican party will have a walkover and return to power, because the Democracy cannot spare the foreign vote and win, and the Labor party would not draw enough from the Republicans to injure them. The entire East is watching the New York fight with great interest, and the only party that is afraid of the result is the Democracy. CAN FOREIGN-BORN CITIZENS SUP-PORT HIM?

Washington Bartlett refused to support the nominees of his old party in 1855. He went off and entered the crew battering against foreigners, and supported and voted for J. Neely Johnson, the Know Nothing candidate, for Governor of California, and "swung" the influence of his papers, two of which he edited in 1855 in San Francisco, for the Know Nothing ticket.

At that time, the Placer Times and Tran script, the leading Democratic journal of with service to the Know Nothings.

How could they do otherwise, with Mr. Bartlett an active affiliate in a Know Nothing lodge, and a leading working member of the order, sworn to its obligations in the most solemn form?

What was a Know Nothing? A man who, in a secret conclave, political in all its parts, subscribed to these principles:

"To place in all offices of honor, trust or profit, in the gift of the people, or by appointment, none but native-born Protestant citizens." (Ritual, Art II., Hist. Am. Pol.,

A man who subscribed to this doctrine "No member who may have a Roman Catholic wife shall be eligible to office in this order." (Ritual, Art. III.)

A man who, standing before the Vice-President in the first degree, placed his the Republicans cannot afford to jeopardize left hand upon his heart, raised his "right the Legislature to pacify the malice and toward heaven," and swore: "In the presence of Almighty God and these witnesses for any man for any office in the gift of the people unless he be an American-born citizen, in favor of Americans ruling its quarrel and split up to gratify the mal-America, nor if he be a Roman Catholic. What other obligations did the Know Catholics from office or place, and that you will in no case appoint such to any office or place in your gift, so help you God, and keep you steadfast." To which they answered severally "I do." (Ritual Second Degree, charge and obligation, ibid.) What did the editor of a journal advocating Mr. Johnson's election in 1855, and fighting the Democratic nominee and the Whig nominee, bind himself to in a Know Nothing lodge? To all these things and to much more of the same sort.

> THE intelligent foreigner is not to be led astray by the senseless and mendacious statement that the Republican party is tinged with Know Nothingism. Nothing could be farther from truth. The essential principle of the party is that of broadest toleration in all things; of the recognition of men as such. It is the one party of all that have existed that stands for no division in Americanism. It never has and cannot know the native American or the naturalized American. There is but one title to the citizenship of its recognition. Whoever attempts to define Republicanism as hide-bound, narrow, clannish, or proscriptive of manhood, must be taken as woefully ignorant, or else as willfully insulting the intelligence of his hearers.

ommendable. It is one of the rewards of commend and applaud. While the right is to be pursued for right's sake, nevertheless concern to deserve well of our fellows is a spirit to be conserved. Sacramento has one candidate upon the Republican ticket who is to be voted for throughout the State, and it is a cause of local pride that he has won the distinction by a life meri-torious in all respects, by ability, by dignity, by duty-doing. A San Francisco paper— the Resources of California—recently gave to the public in its pages a gallery of superb portraits of distinguished men of California, and among the num-ber is that of our fellow-townsman, the Hon. He intended to go to Sacramento, where he had some acquaintances, and commence the practice of the law: but being detained by a sick companion at Ringgold, El Dorado county, he tried his hand a little at prospecting, and found a claim which, though small, was quite rich. Being captivated by mining, he followed that business for three years in the counties of El Dorado, Placer, Nevada and Yuba, and in the winter of 1853 he began the practice of law in Nevada City. In 1861 he was nominated by the Republican party for the office of District Judge of the Fourteenth Judicial District, and was elected for the full 1861 he was nominated by the Republican party for the office of District Judge of the Fourteenth Judicial District, and was elected for the full term of six years. The district was then composed of Nevada county alone. The constitutional amendments which were soon afterwards adopted, cut off his term at the end of two years. In 1863, he was reelected without opposition, the district then being composed of Nevada and Placer counties. At the end of his second term in 1870, having served eight years as Judge, he removed to Sacramento city, and resumed law practice. In 1874, without his solicitation, and at the same time against his desire, he was appointed Register of the United States Land Office at Sacramento. He held the office for one full term of four years, retaining, however, the principal part of his law practice. He was appointed to a second term, but resigned a month or two afterwards, and was elected a member of the California State Constitutional Convention, which met in the fall of 1878. He took an active part in the debates and proceedings of that body. *

* * In 1882, Hon. S. C. Denson having resigned the office of Superior Judge for Sacramento county, Governor Perkins wrote Judge McFarland a note requesting him to accept and so harmful as was feared. If this is strong praise it is but the simple truth written by the life of a man whose course has been upright, whose life has been devoted to his State, and whose activity has made an ineffacable mark of credit on her history. Nearly all his mature life has been devoted to his profession—at the Bar and on the Bench. Few men have dealt with such a variety of legal questions. Nearly all the leading lawyers of the State, at one time or another, have been before him, and we think we can safely say that nearly all the members of the legal profession of all parties who know him well will expect him. ies, who know him well, will support him oled with the education and training of a lawyer, he has the strong common ase and broad mental grasp so essential in a Judge. His integrity has never been questioned, and not the faintest blush of doubt has even been cast upon his char-acter, public or private. He has that quality in an eminent degree, which is possessed by all honest men, perfect fearlessness. When, after the full hearing of a case his judgment has brought him to a conclusion, he would not change it a hair's breadth for any man on the globe, or for any human ience; for millionaire or for mob. Open conviction, patient, judicial in every attitude, he still is firm as the hills in his convictions of the right. He is a political scholar, an orator and a writer of fine Eng-lish. A Justice of the Supreme Court is required to place the decisions of the bench in writing, to make up the record of the Court's opinion. It is essential that this should be done comprehensibly; that the law shall be expounded clearly, and coniction carried to the public mind of the xact truth. We know no man better this city this afternoon of apoplexy. He apacitated for such work, or whose liter style is clearer, more concise, or forcible. The land in the western part of the county has all passed out of Government hands, except some that is broken. To the east the Government land becomes plenty. Forty miles east of this place it is most all overnment land, and timber good and lenty. Grizzly Flat is situated where the snow falls to a considerable depth. They farm successfully there. Three miles east of that town there is very little of the land sold, and it is open to homestead settle-ment. The timber grows so tall and thick there that very little grass grows. I have lived in this county thirty-four years, and

CALIFORNIA.

The State Campaign. Downisville, October 21st.—The Republicans had a grand rally here last evening.
W. H. Patterson, candidate for State Senator, assisted by T. L. Ford, the eloquent son of Sierra, addressed a large audience in Armory Hall, and the wildest enthusiasm prevailed. Sierra county is hopelessly Republican by about 400 majority. publican by about 400 majority.

SAN DIEGO, October 21st .- The larges a Senator to fairly represent the people at Washington in the place Hearst once filled to the gratification of bull-butter and the delight of slickens.

In central and northern California, Judge McFarland has a State reputation of the highest character, and is more or less known to all who have lived in the State for a dozen or more years. There are newcomers, however, to whom his name may be less familiar, and this suggests to us the less familiar and northern California, Judge make any specific pledges, but would, if elected, treat with equal justice the rail-roads and the people. Mr. Edgerton was received with great applause, as his well-roads and the people. In the less familiar, and the less familiar and northern California, Judge make any specific pledges, but would, if elected, treat with equal justice the rail-roads and th speech, saying that he did not come to parties in this State, and said that the Republican party was right on the Chinese and silver questions. He spoke of Stoneman as not being a competent Governor, though a generous and honest man. His address was very eloquent.

ORLAND, October 21st.-Major W. W. Allen addressed an appreciative Republican audience here to-night, contrasting most favorably the Republican against the Democratic administration.

PLACERVILLE, October 21st. - Severa Democratic speakers were announced to speak here to-night, but none put in an appearance but Filcher, candidate for Railroad Commissioner. His whole theme was denouncing the railroad corporations. Fully one-half the audience were ladies and very little enthusiasm was manifested. SANTA CRUZ October 21st -The Demo crats are having a grand rally here to-night. Railroad Commissioner W. W. Foote and Judge Jeremiah F. Sullivan, of San Francisco, are the orators of the evening.

SPANISHTOWN, October 21st.—Charles N Felton, Republican candidate for Congress spoke here to-night to an enthusiastic audi ence and made a very favorable impression. He argued forcibly in favor of a protective tariff, and showed how the Democratic free-traders in the last Congress had killed every tariff bill. SANTA ROSA, October 21st.—Swift spoke to an audience of perhaps 2,000 to-night, at the Athenaeum. He said the Democratic party favors slave labor now, as they did during the war, and cited as an evi-dence of the fact that it favors free trade, which doctrine would bring every American laborer in competition with the pauper

TULARE, October 21st .- John P. Irish made a two hours' speech to a crowded house to night.

Coursing at Merced. MERCED, October 21st .- The second day's oursing of the Pacific Coast Coursing Club came off to-day. The drawing for the meet was spirited, and most of the hares ran well. The coursing of the morning commenced with the third run-over for the old dog stakes. Mercedite's Kittie from Cork beat Devlin's Elvira, Cronin's beat Egan's Maid of Erin,
Chief beat Halpin's Manager pa, Brady's Oceanic beat Grace's Black Bart. Fourth ties—Kittie from Cork beat Thornhill, Elvira ran a bye, Menlo Chief beat Thorn-

The first prize was awarded to Menlo Chief, Thornhill got second prize, Oceanic third, and Kittie from Cork fourth. Puppy stakes—McDonald's Marshal Ney beat Meredite's Limerick Lassie, Fahey's Tuolumne Belle beat McCarthy's Merced Chiet. Marshal Ney being disabled, was withdrawn, giving Tuolumne Belle first prize, and Marshal Ney second.

San Francisco, October 21st. - The weather indications for the twenty-four hours commencing at 4 A. M. October 22d are: For California, south of the latitude of Lake Tulare, continued cool and fair weather. For California, north of Lake Tulare, fair weather, followed on Friday evening by increasing cloudiness and local General West Held to Answer. FRANCISCO, October 21st.-The United States Commissioner to-day held Theodore S. West, Special Agent of the Treasury Department, for trial on a charge of opening a letter addressed to Mrs Lillie Hepburn. His bonds were fixed at $2,000, which were at once filed.

From Ounalaska's Shore SAN FRANCISCO, October 21st .- The Arctic exploring expedition under command of Lieutenant Stoney arrived to-night from Qunalaska on the United States steamer The Babes in the Wood.

Anderson (Shasta county), October 21st. -The two lost children belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay were found yesterday morning about 10 o'clock. They were about six miles from home in a canyon, where they had been all night. They wer nestled together, while hundreds of people were searching for them; they did not appear the least concerned. Died Suddenly.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, October 21st .- Santiago Brizolora, one of the pioneer citizens of this county, died suddenly at his home in was 50 years of age.

UTAH.

Mormons Will Be Mormons. SALT LAKE, October 21st.—Bishop Louis H. Mosely, of Bluffdale, was bound over to-day in $1,500 bonds. His two wives admitted their marital relations with him constantly during the past three years. S H. Marks was held in $3,000 bonds, there being a probable case of polygamy against him. O. P. Arnold made a motion for a new trial, for admission to bail and for an appeal. All were overruled. Judge Zane reminded Arnold that a year and a half ago, on pleading guilty to unlawful cohabitation, he promised to obey the law and lend his influence in support of the statutes. Now he is convicted again of unlawhost of Democrats as well. The people of the State have seldom an opportunity of putting a man upon the Supreme Bench so three charges, $450 fine and costs.

"VERY LIKE A WHALE." A Remarkable Specimen of the Sturgeon

Family. Mention was made in yesterday's issue of attention at Jones & Anderson's market, where it was exhibited, and where it was yesterday morning killed and cut up. It proved to be a female, measuring 9 feet 2 inches in length, and weighing 429 pounds. The head weighed 110 pounds, measured 19 inches across and 2 feet from the end of the mose to the back of the gills. The latter alone weighed 15½ pounds. The capture of the "ganoid" doubtless deprived many fish of other species of a large amount of food, as her spawn weighed 75 pounds. There are two kinds of sturgeon caught in the river—the white and the green. The former obtains its name through the fact that its flesh is white; while the other is named because of the green tinge in its skin. Its flesh is red. The fish dissected yesterday was a white one but those who watched the centing in were surprised to see 17 pounds of meat, resembling beefsteak, cut from about the cidedly paralyzing. They are very tenacious of life. Yesterday morning, after this one of life. Yesterday morning, after this one had been "killed" by having his head battered in, he gave two or three flops of his tail while heing out open and the operator. tail while being cut open and the operator had to exercise his agility to save himself every true Republican. from being knocked overboard from the market. Sturgeon not too old is good eating; but, like catish in some portions of the East, they are too common to be generally held in high favor. Nevertheless, as "sea bass" and "tenderloin of sole" their popularity gives evidence that there is much in a name, after all said to the contrary. The common sturgeon of Europe attains a length of six to ten feet, sometimes more, is found in the Caspian and Black Seas and the rivers opening into from being knocked overboard from the sometimes more, is found in the Caspian and Black Seas and the rivers opening into them, and sometimes on the coast of Great Britain and the Baltic. The flesh is delicate, has been compared to veal, and it was in old times considered a royal dish, and served with great pomp in ancient Greece and Rome. There is a larger species found in the seas or rivers of southeastern Europe, called the beluga, which attains a length of 12 to 15 feet, and a weight of 1,200 pounds. The flesh is tough, and of inferior quality, but the sound, or air-bladder, furnishes an abundant supply of isinglass, for which great squarter riots, and since that time had been numbers are caught in Russia. Caviare is made from the roe of the female, which sometimes constitutes one-third the weight followed mercantile pursuits. His first of the fish, and the skin is used for harness leather. The sterlet, found in the Caspian, grows to a length of only two or three feet, and furnishes a most delicate food and the Administrator, eight years as Assessor, and

REPUBLICAN MEETING.

SPEECHES OF C. N. FOX AND THE COUNTY NOMINEES

At Seventeenth and M Streets Last Night-A Large and Enthusiastic Gathering.

A meeting was held at Seventeenth and M streets last evening, which was addressed by the Republican hominees on the county ticket. A handsomely decorated stand had been erected in front of Parker's Hall, benches were placed in front, bonfires blazed at the street intersections, a brass band was in attendance, and the meeting was largely attended, notwithstanding the night air was chilly. It was called to order by George Murray, President of the Four-and-a-Half Ward Republican Club, a large sturgeon caught on Tuesday by P. who announced the following officers: Lucas at Devil's Reach. It attracted much | President, Charles T. Jones; Vice-Presiattention at Jones & Anderson's market, dents, Phil, Herzog, H. H. Linnell, Jacob

The fish dissected yesterday was a white one, but those who watched the cutting up and were not familiar with the subject, had a "walk-over"—this was conceded by had a "walk-over"—this was conceded by everyone; but this fact should not cause anyone to lose their interest in the State election. It was the most important elechead. It was secured with avidity by a gentleman present, who declared it equal to porter-house steak in tenderness and flavor. The white sturgeon is not as lively as the green, and makes less trouble for the fishermen when caught in nets. The very large ones are logy, and the specimen spoken of above was secured without much difficulty, being pulled to the stern of the boat and being pulled to the stern of the boat and stunned by blows on the head, and then the legislators elected should be Republisecured with a rope and towed to market. White or green, they are handled easily enough as long as the captor can work at their heads, but a blow from the tail is decidedly executed. The legislators elected should be keptonican. He said the Stateticket was first-class from top to bottom, while the county ticket was unexceptionable; the best ever put up in this county during his recollection, and in this county during his recollection, and he had been here since 1854. abundant supply of isinglass, for which great | squatter riots, and since that time had been best caviare. Some idea of the commercial importance of this fishery may be gathered always been a consistent and outspoken from the fact that in one year, in the Caspian Sea alone, about 8,800 persons were employed obtaining 786,000 sturgeons, yielding 28,500 pounds of caviare and 1,100 pounds of isinglass. In American waters pounds of isinglass. In American waters there is the short-nosed sturgeon, attaining not claim to be a lawyer nor public speak. er, but he always could make himself thoroughly understood by speaking plainly, a length of from three to seven feet, very squarely and to the point.

That, fellow-citizens, is a Republican speech. No Democrat in Congress ever voted for the adoption of the Fourteenth Amendment. General Carey was made an Woolsey, Mohawk Chief, Palo Alto, American citizen by the Republican party, and many others less noted. There is an immense number of brood mares, having in their veins the blood of the most approved tratting stock in the st proved trotting stock in the country, and furnishing great opportunity for crossing the strains, which the reputation the farm has gained for raising speedy horses shows to have been done with excellent judgment and great success. The thoroughbred stallions include Flood Shapman and man could be a citizen of a State, but not until the passage by the Republican party of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, and which the Democracy labored to defeat the Democracy labored to defeat, was American citizenship heard of.

At 2 o'clock ervisors of this county could enjoin the this afternoon a matinee performance will hydraulic miners and defend our homes against the flow of slickens. General Carey, as the legal advisor of the Board, gave them a legal opinion, in writing, in which he held that the funds of the county could not be used for that purpose. The Board, however, proceeded with their in-junction, and did stop the hydraulic miners, and it is evident from subsequent results that his opinion was not good law. He said he agreed with General Carey upon the irrigation problem, but claimed that he was more intimately acquainted

Can combine labor as one man—a ponderous engine; but labor is disorganized. Abraham Lincoln said: "No* men are more to be trusted than those who toil up from poverty. Labor is the superior to capital and deserves much the higher consideration."

It is the right of every laboring man to combine within the law and fight for all they can get. He believed it was right, they can get. He believed it was right, when a man was struggling to get a little home—trying to make himself a capitalist in a small way—that the laws of the State should be shaped to assist him in that

He said every man who was a citizen of the United States should make it his duty House to understand all laws, and try to discriminate carefully all issues he is called to pass upon. The Heath amendment is simply that the railroad companies are to be made to pay 2½ per cent. of their gross receipts in lieu of all other taxation. That is the proposition of two of the leading Democrats of the State, English and Greathouse, who drew it up, and the same was presented to the Legislature by Mr. Heath. It passed both houses of a Democratic administration. At their very first State Convention held thereafter they go back upon their own act. I myself, like General Carey, am opposed to the Heath amendment, as I now understand it. Let us see how; it oversites in other States beus see how it operates in other States be-fore we adopt it. General Carey refers to my anti-Chinese record. It is true I took an active part at the solicitation of our citizens in the anti-Chinese movement. We had the massacres in Wyoming and Washington Territory, and it became necessary that some action should be taken to present our case to the National Congress. It was highly import-ant that an anti-Chinese expression should go from this coast. I did take an active part up to a certain point, when it became part up to a certain point, when it became an anarchial movement, and I then stepped down. I labored, and successfully, too, with C labored, in security, too, with C labored, and successfully, too, appeared to prosecute him. with Grove L. Johnson in securing the consolidation of the two State Anti-Chinese Conventions, which resulted in Swift's memorial to Congress, an able state paper, which did more for the cause than all other things combined. I have nothing to take back. I labored hard to accomplish all the good possible within the law, and am quite well satisfied with the result of my labors. But where was General Carey during all those troub-lous times. He was not heard of; but in his speech the other night he takes a bold and open stand on the Chinese question. I did what I could in the matter consistently and conscientiously; but never any-

If the Democracy carries the election, and secures a majority in the Legislature, there is no power on earth that can prevent George Hearst from going to the United States Senate. He stood up in the United States Senate, and worked and voted in the interest of the hydraulic miners, and against the interest of the valley people. Is he the man you want to send to the Senate? a man with millions of money and no brains? He is the only man that is before the Democracy for that position. The ke-publicans have four candidates for the position of United States Senator. I will not promise to vote for any man for that position. If I am elected the man who gets my vote for United States Senator will have to be a solid Republican, sound on the hydraulic mining proposition, and against the draulic mining proposition, and against the draulic mining proposition. be a solid Republican, sound on the hy-draulic mining proposition, and against the importation of Chinese.

He said there never was a fairer or squarer ticket put up in this county than the present one. It was good from top to bottom, and should receive the united support of the Republican party.

CHARLES N. FOX. The next speaker introduced was the Hon. Charles N. Fox, of Alameda. His speech was eloquent, well-timed and frequently applauded. He said the State ticket was worthy the confidence of the people, from top to bottom, and from what he could learn the county ticket was he could learn the county ticket was equally as good. We ought not to go off and scratch a man because he was not our first choice. They cannot all be your personal friends. Everybody has his friends, and each individual wants to be heard in the nominating Convention. Tickets are not made up of one man's friends. It is the representation of a party that repre-sents a principle and a policy which is to control our State and nation

The speaker reviewed at length all the great reforms of the Republican party, and "We, as Americans, ought to support the nominees of the party; for i way only can we name the policy that the majority of the people adopt as the policy for the nation. He reviewed the Chinese question from the time the first Mongol arrived in San Francisco down to the present time, and showed that he had always been the adopted child of the Democracy.

He asked the support of all Republicans for the nominees of the party that gave them such illustrious names as Lincoln, Seward, Chase, Stanton, Sherman, Sherilan. Garfield and Blaine. The other speakers were: L. S. Taylor and H. W. Carroll, candidates for the Assembly; Elwood Bruner, candidate for District Attorney; H. L. Buckley, candidate for Police Judge; Samuel Smith, candidate for Public Administrator; Charles N. Post, candidate for City Justice of the Peace; A. L. Frost, candidate for Assessor; W. B. Hamilton, candidate for County Clerk; J. L. Huntoon, candidate for Treasurer, and Benjamin Howard, candidate for truth, the whole truth, and nothing but School Superintendent.

If he had so many bills the Legislature is the law that were so greatly in the lawyer the Convention came to me and said they torced upon her by the conduct of her draft them and give them to Senator Cox to introduce. Senator Cox is no lawyer, but a banker. He is a clear-headed, successful business man, and made a good Senator. His party was not anxious for a lawyer for Senator, for they tried to force him to take the nomination, but he repeatedly declined to accept.

The Examiner, Mr. Cary's Democratic Bible, says that it has noticed sneers against George Hearst's career as United States Senator, and that it comes from those who think that no man can be an effective Senator unless he has the gift of gab and is possessed of all the tricks of a skilled lawyer, and adde that the lake of a skilled lawyer, and adde that the lake of a senator conduct and language more forcible than polite, in demanding possession of the child. CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

DS. RECORD-UNION: IN THE "STAR" of the 19th inst. appears a statement relating to me, purporting to have been made upon the authority of Grove L. Johnson, who in turn refers to J. T. Griffitts. I have had sufficient experience in politics to expect all kinds of unfounded scandalous charges to be made. To those who know me no reply would be needs sary, but for the benefit of those who do not, I take this opportunity of saying over my own signature that the statement is wholly and malignantly false, and I challenge Mr. Johnson or any one else to prove the truth of the same, or any part of it. Unfortunately Mr. Griffitts is East, and I am prevented from getting his testimony. The comments of the "Star" are simply what might be expected from a desperate partisan organ. [020-tf] A. L. FROST.
